Some things are beyond unacceptable.
I've seen people dropping "funny" comments under posts about Gaza—children starving, babies injured, families bombed, people dying of malnutrition. That's not humor. That's cruelty.

When someone laughs where others cry, it doesn't make them witty. It exposes a lack of empathy, dignity, and basic humanity. LinkedIn is a place to raise awareness, to stand with the oppressed, to demand justice. Treating human suffering like a stage for cheap jokes is heartless and demeaning—not just to the victims, but to all of us who value humanity.

If you cannot contribute compassion, silence is better than mockery. Some tragedies are not your playground.
